Leo High School

GRABILL, INDIANA

Oh, would some Power the gift to give us
To see ourselves as others see us.

Yes, may each of you see yourselves as the Oracle staff has seen you. Naturally, the 1960-61 year had sad incidents; but remember, as the Oracle remembers, only the happy experiences. The Oracle does give you the power to see many things which would have been lost forever.
Because of the Oracle, the 1960-61 year will not become a mysterious, forgotten year.

IN MEMORIAM

MART FOWLER

Mart Fowler and Jimmy Briley were members of the '60 class until their death in the spring of '58.

These boys, who were the best of friends, are remembered for their quietness and very polite manners.

Although they kept to themselves, they proved that they were top-notch students.

Leo High School will always hold fond memories of these boys.

UNDERSTANDING

Leo offers various social studies. Some of these are so important that they are required subjects. They are important because they are an essential part of citizenship, and good citizens make a good nation.

It isn't wise to wait until the last years of high school to teach social studies. This is why the 7 and 8 grade classes are offered general history and Indiana History. Also, a freshman orientation class helps in preparing students for their more advanced citizenship courses in high school.

Group discussions were popular with everyone in sociology.

These eighth graders show that Indians played an important role in our country's history.

The Mock U.N. Assembly was presented by several history students much to the delight of the entire student body.

OUR DEMOCRACY

Often classes dealing with citizenship cannot be confined within the walls of a school room. The students must become acquainted with public life; therefore, they need to take frequent field trips and have prominent public men speak to them. Leo has met this challenge by showing films, visiting public buildings, and participating in such activities as the "model U.N."

It should be remembered by everyone that "A community is like a ship; every one ought to be prepared to take the helm." Social studies offers this preparation.

Orientation is a course designed to introduce all freshmen to high school life.

Compliments of
HARTMAN & STUCKEY
EXCAVATING
Leo, Indiana

Beginning with the simple sentence in seventh grade, and continuing with all parts of speech through senior year make up the basis for English-grammar study. Much practice is given each student in the use of composition through theme writing. The eighth grade literature studies the epic poem Evangeline. The ninth grade studies a Dickens's novel, while the tenth grade reads Silas Marner, a novel by George Eliot. Julius Caesar is also studied by the tenth grade. The Junior Class studies all forms of American literature. Macbeth is one of the main studies in the senior year.

Under Mrs. Steiner's watchful eye, pupils learn the basic fundamentals of grammar.

"The Stolen Prince" is dramatized by Ron Savage, Larry Warner, Marie Eicher, Tom Mix, and Gary Graber.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English department at Leo has added a reading machine, record player, and tape recorder to their equipment. A speech class and a journalism class have been added, also.

Richard Gardner seems to be at ease while presenting his speech before the class.

Rod Bertsch displays his "gift of speech."

A thoroughly enjoyed project of the class was their portrayal of the Birth of Christ.

SPEECH

The new class of speech has played an important role. Students in the speech class were masters of ceremonies for most of the school assemblies and sponsored special convocations. Conducting assemblies involves much work as students who have taken part in one know. That's why the speech class students deserve a "thank you." The students of the speech class, under the supervision of Miss Lehman, unanimously agree that the class has brought to each of them something which will help them in later life at work and home. It has given them the ability to speak before a group, ability to memorize, and the ability to interpret.

A panel discussion brings every member of the class into the picture.

Jim Linnemeier and Diana Hartman team up to work on their lab assignment.

Chemistry explains the structure of matter in terms of electrical charges. It considers what occurs when substances react to form new substances. The students have prepared throughout the year several compounds and a number of chemically free elements.

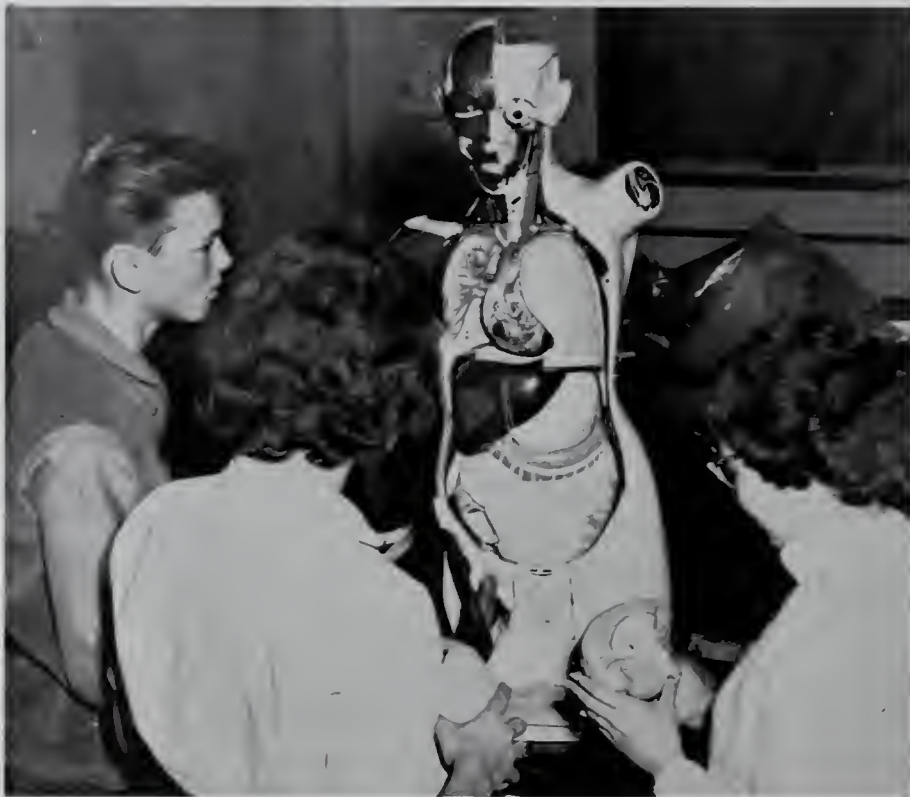

Just what is light? What makes an electric motor run? What is the difference between heat and temperature? Those questions, and many others, are discussed and solved in Physics.

Members of the physics class keep their eye on the machine that measures Radio activity.

SCIENCE . . .

Biology is a study of life activities of plants and animals. To further the subject, each student is required to turn in a collection of leaves from Indiana trees and one major project of their own choosing concerning biology. This project may be anything from an insect collection to an embryology experiment.

Steve Miller, Mary Winegardner, and Connie Thornton study the human torso.

Our health is a very important factor in our lives. Health, being a required subject for grades seven through nine, tries to further the students' knowledge of health in general and prepare them to lead a healthier life—not only physically, but mentally, emotionally, and socially.

Dr. Doehrman drills into the pupils' heads that health is very important to all of us.

Below right: Kay Zorger and Steve Johnson seem "tickled-pink" over the results of their experiment.

First Aid is defined as the immediate and temporary care given the victim of an accident or sudden illness until the services of a physician can be obtained.

A few of the objectives of the class are: learning how to help others, learning how to help yourself, and developing safety consciousness.

The class is designed to give as much practical experience as possible; thereby, giving students an opportunity to gain confidence in handling different situations that may arise.

An appreciation of science and recognition of the many ways in which it affects us are considered in this science class. The different branches of science and the many opportunities in the field are discussed. We have studied energy, gravity, astronomy, geology, reproduction and conservation. Sound, electricity, and magnetism are also mentioned.

The theory of Gregg shorthand is learned and students are taught to associate a definite sound with writing of a definite shorthand outline.

At the end of the first year, a student is expected to be able to take dictation on new material at a minimum of 60 words per minute and to transcribe with an acceptable degree of accuracy.

In the second year, students continue to increase their shorthand vocabulary, ability to spell and punctuate, knowledge of word meanings and dictation speed.

At the end of the second year, students should be able to take new matter dictation at 100 words per minute for five minutes and transcribe accurately.

Barb Schweppe, Karen Hedges, Jan Yoder, and Su Gehrig proved themselves invaluable to Mr. Jones many times.

BUSINESS SUBJECTS

Typing develops a speed and vocational proficiency in typing business letters, business forms, and manuscripts. Students are required to type at a minimum speed of 35 words per minute on straight copy for ten minutes.

Bookkeeping is a study of the business papers such as checks, drafts, invoices, and credit memorandums, which form the basis of entries in columnar journals. Business records as applied to professional, service, and merchandizing businesses are studied. Payroll and tax records are included. Bookkeeping helps develop basic skills useful in business and personal life and emphasizes the habits of accuracy, orderliness, and neatness in such areas as arithmetic, penmanship, and in checking and proving problems completed.

The adding machine aids Sue Weilbaker and Sharon Schrock in calculating the total in bookkeeping.

Mrs. Mumma takes time out to help typist, Roger Lederman.

Future business men and women need to know mathematics. This is a subject covering everything from adding 2 and 3 to filling out an income tax form. The instructor, Mr. Grile, had the students follow the stock market operations. Each pupil invested an imaginary $1,000 in March and then waited until May to sell his stock.

One phase of math studied in Bus. Math was graphs. The pupils in the picture are busy at work designing graphs.

MATH

A knowledge of Algebra helps students adjust to the Space Age. Students begin with simple formulas and advance into the more difficult phases of this subject.

Barb Gerig, Bill Jones, and Jerry Garman are tested on their skills in Algebra.

Advanced Math includes a condensed treatment of Solid Geometry, Trigonometry and introduction to Analytic Geometry, and a brief taste of Differential Calculus. When time permits, items in Probability and Statistics are touched.

WE'RE READY FOR THE FUTURE

The Home Economics department has studied cooking, sewing, family living, and budgeting this year. The Senior Class has taken part in the Betty Crocker Homemaker of America Contest and a sewing contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Vogue Pattern Company. A fashion show was given by the Home Economics classes for the Parent Teachers' Association.

WE'RE BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Shop, which is under the supervision of Mr. Heller, starts in the seventh grade with the study of drafting, woodworking, and model work. Later in high school the students work with electricity, metal lathe work, concrete and carpentry, arc welding, and transportation work, such as automobiles and go-carts.

Even the boys in shop took time out from their daily work to enjoy refreshments—what refreshments!

Senior boys spent many hours overhauling this truck.

GUTÉN MORGEN

The second year German class is a continuation of study of German grammar and vocabulary translation. A week was dedicated to the appreciation and enjoyment of German customs, literature, and culture. A term paper including brief sketches of German writers, artists, and cities, is a requirement for completion of the course.

Miss Sprunger checks to see if her students have learned to pronounce this sentence correctly.

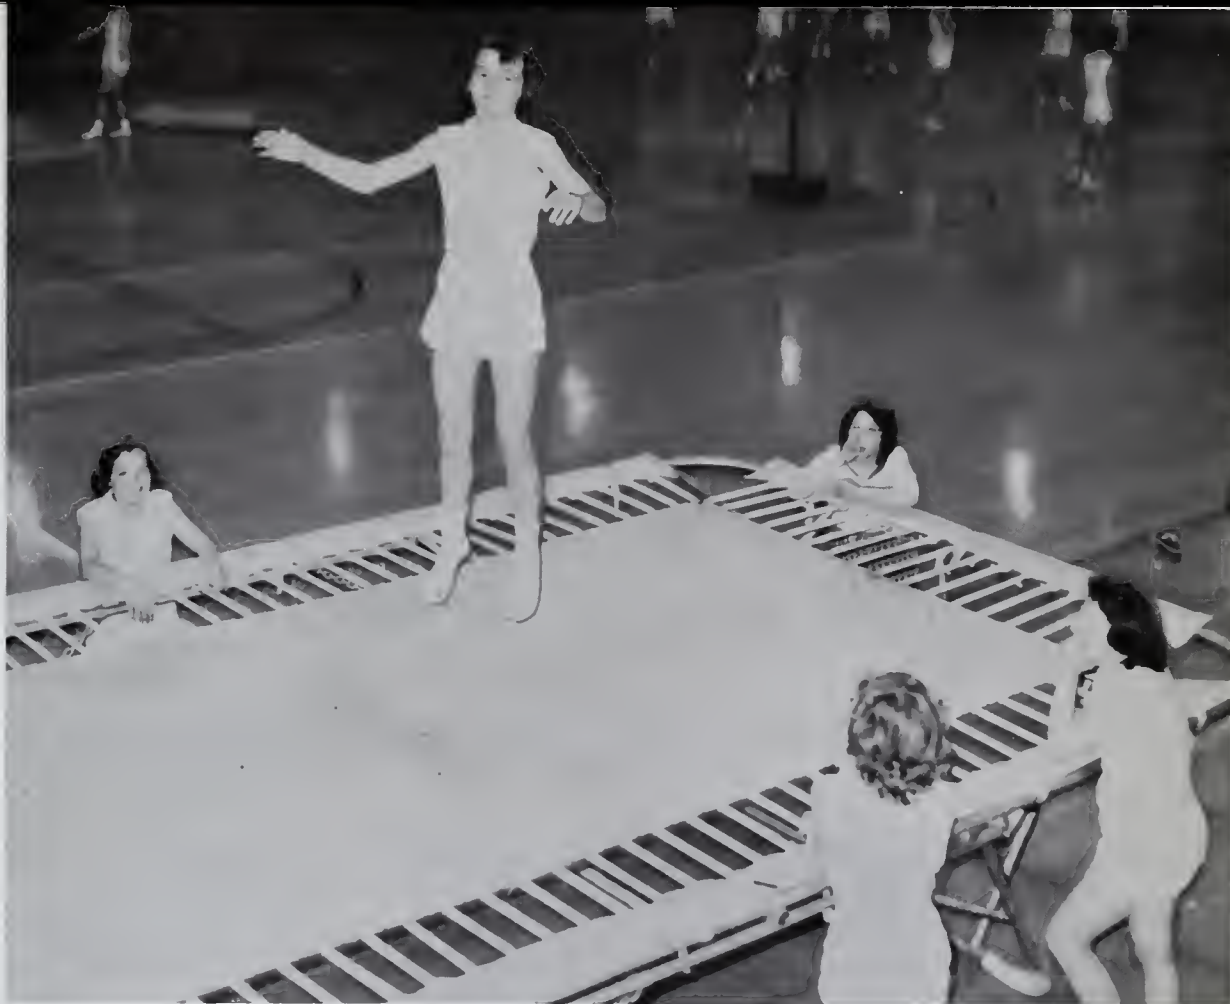

HOLA

Spanish is important in our relationship with Latin-American countries. Besides using a text book, the students are aided by Spanish records. Conversational Spanish is emphasized throughout the course. Pronunciation, conversation, grammar, and vocabulary are the main essentials. Students begin with expressions such as: How are you? and What is your name?

Steve Wahlig, Kenna Levy, and Craig Woods are tested on their ability to form the Spanish forms of a word.

The trampoline was a favorite piece of equipment used by the girls in Miss Lehman's gym classes.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Development of the body, learning responsibility, and cooperation are the main purposes in teaching physical education. Both boys and girls in grades seven through ten are required to take physical education. Although their programs may vary, there are many factions of physical education in which either the boys or the girls or both participate such as: softball, horseshoe, football, basketball, volleyball, bowling, badminton, and track. The physical education department also is equipped with a trampoline, parallel bars, horse, and mats. At the present time preparations are being made to include archery in future physical education classes.

Boys in gym class can tell you that Mr. Doehrman never let a day go by without giving them a good workout.

ART

DO-RE-ME-FA-SO-LA-TI-DO

Many of these seventh graders find that music can be truly enjoyable.

Much is being done to help our younger students toward a better appreciation of music. Music fundamentals and theory begin the twelve week study of music and singing. Following this the students study various musical instruments, folk songs of different countries, and their composers, and then basic music appreciation.

Every day during the sixth period band members meet in the music room for an hour of practice.

Mr. Faurote's art classes work with ceramics, leather, tempera paint, soap sculpturing, interior decorating, fashion, and displays for the show case. They also have been a great help to other clubs and activities with their work on posters and signs. Holiday decorations and scenery for plays and programs were done by the art class also.

ACCIDENT PRONE?

The Driver Education course is designed to help students get better acquainted with the car and the responsibilities placed upon them when becoming operators of motor vehicles. Approximately 25 classroom hours are used to gain general knowledge and approximately 6 hours are set aside for behind-the-wheel-training to gain experience and confidence in actual driving under normal conditions.

KNOWLEDGE AND ENTERTAINMENT IN ONE ROOM

Leo's 4,000 volume library has proved very helpful to students writing term papers or to students who enjoy reading. The library has five sets of up-to-date encyclopedias plus one new set of technological encyclopedias. It is also very strong in the non-fiction section. The fiction department contains many classics and also many of the recent fiction books.

Unaware of Mr. Neuhouser, Norm Eubank catches an extra 40 winks.

The students of Leo take full advantage of the library's facilities.

ACTIVITIES

King Phil Stuckey and Queen Su Ellen Gehrig.

KING AND QUEEN REIGN

An event staged for the first time at Leo was the crowning of a Yearbook King and Queen. The coronation was held at the Christmas Party on December 21, in the school. King Phil Stuckey and Queen SuEllen Gehrig sat on thrones backed by a magnificent paper heart—the handiwork of Susan Shimer and her assistants. Mrs. Sauder, teacher and yearbook advisor, presented the crowns, while Holly Thornton and Joe Tharp served as the crown bearers.

Dean Kruse, graduate of '59, narrated the program.

The Royal Court was as follows: Best Personality, Dave Kruse and Judi Zell; Best Dressed, Earl Jacquay and Janet Yoder; Most Athletic, Mark Graham and Phyllis Moore; Wittiest, Bob Bojrab and Jeanne Spencer; and the Shyest, Norm Eubank and Pat Secrist. Joyce Byrd received the honor for Jan who was unable to attend.

"THE ORACLE"

The Oracle staff has put forth an arduous effort to make an annual that will supply every student a picturesque record of the 1960-61 school year.

A number of the pictures in this book have been taken by Mike Brase, a member of our staff. Many thanks are due to the business concerns who cooperated in our advertising drive. The funds secured from this drive helped greatly in making this book a possibility.

Of course, the Oracle sincerely hopes that the portrayal it gives is exact. It also hopes that the memories it offers will be eternal.

“LION’S TALE”

Although the “Lion’s Tale” was started just this year, it has run smoothly due to the fine co-operation of the members of the staff and the fine leadership of Mrs. Sauder, its advisor. This paper has given the staff some journalistic experience as well as the opportunity of working together. There have been many trials and tribulations, but with each mistake they have learned something of value which has made the next issue better.

The “Lion’s Tale” has a staff of 17 students.

They are Judi Zell, editor; Dave Kruse, Academic Highlights; Barb Schweppe, Club Wire; Ronnie Miller, Guidance Corner; Su Gehrig, Snoop; Jan Yoder, Music! Music! Music!; Karen Hedges, 10, 11, and 12th grade news; Ann Dunlap, 7, 8 and 9th grade news; Larry Page and Malinda Evard, Sports Highlights; Jim Decker, correspondent; Jeanne Mees, Funny Bone; Dorcas Ringenberg, Style Wise; Sheila Johnson, Seniors Talk; Sheryl Furnish, Dear Daphney; Edna Hall, Teachers Are Human; and Shirley Lantz, name file.

The Leo School Council, which is in its second year, became a member of the "Indiana Association of Student Councils."

Powers of the council are many. "The Council shall have power to regulate all school elections; to charter and regulate all extra-curricular clubs; to suggest changes in school policy affecting students; to organize and carry through any money raising activities for charity; to suggest various projects to the student body and extra-curricular organizations; to assist in planning noon-time activities."

Membership in school council is as follows: presidents of all classes; vice-president of Junior and Senior classes; Juniors and Freshman electee serving two years;

Seniors and Eighth grade electee serving one year; 3 faculty advisors; and 3 appointees by faculty serving 1 year.

The Council sponsored a Thanksgiving party for the Junior High and a Christmas party for the Senior High. Relays, fun, games and refreshments were featured at the Junior High party. The Eighth graders were the victors of the evening.

Throughout the year the council has approved the money making projects of the different clubs. Amending the Constitution has also been one of its projects.

The Council has given the students a voice in the school government.

Activities of the Senior High Dramatics Club included presentation of a Christmas play written by Pam Shoudel. In presenting a three-act play, the club experienced every phase of play production, including coaching, publicity, and stage managing.

The Junior High School Dramatics Club is composed entirely of girls from grades seven and eight. The girls have studied the development of the drama, given their interpretations of different nationalities, and tried to express moods and feelings in different situations. A play "Boy, What A Time," was written by a committee, and will be staged by the girls.

Bumps, screams, and laughter characterized the Donkey Basketball Games sponsored by the Junior and Senior Classes, February 2.

Faculty members, including Mr. Jones, Mr. Heller, Miss Lehman, and Mr. Oetting; students; and local business men participated in the merriment.

The $200 profit was divided among the two classes and the school activity fund.

HERE COME THE BRIDES . . .

"When a man marries, his troubles begin." This old saying came to life when a completely likeable, perfectly normal young bachelor by the name of Jimmy Took, played by Larry Lichtsinn, needed a wife in a terrific hurry to prove to his Uncle Dan, played by Bob Bojrab, that he was married.

Other characters in this play were as follows:

Bill Thompson	LaVon Miller
Mr. Oswald	Russell Martin
Madge Burns	Marcia Billiard
Aunt Ellen Thompson	Ann Beedy
Peb Westfield	Pam Conley
Mrs. Duvalle	Judi Zell
Bubbles Duvalle	Jeanne Mees
Lady Macbeth	Pam Shoudel
McDaniel	Joan Lengacher

The play was presented by the Dramatics Club under the direction of Mrs. Seifert.

HI-Y BANQUET

The Leo Hi-Y Club is a boys' organization devoted to the development of the community. It promotes good will by backing World Brotherhood Week, aiding welfare institutions, and cooperating with school functions such as the P.T.A. and the School Council. Another important objective of the club is to build the characters of its own members. Each club meeting includes a short devotional period that builds the members spiritually.

The club sponsors a "Best Girl Banquet" that builds the members socially. This year the banquet was held at The Baer Field Airport restaurant. The Clefts from New Haven provided the entertainment.

Sayonara, the theme of the Junior and Senior Reception held at Cutter's Chalet, Saturday evening, April 29, made a very pretty "good-bye." Tables were decorated with red, green, blue, and yellow pagoda bridges, Japanese lanterns; small paper umbrellas served as nut cups.

The menu included Cherry Blossoms, Steak with Sauce, Jade Gems, Lotus Blossom Salad, Fruit of the Good Earth, Chopsticks, Emperor's Delight, and Cantonese Tea. Sam Snyder and his combo provided the dinner music. Special music was provided by a junior girls' quartet. Solist Arlene Dissinger sang Sayonara. Humor for the evening was provided by Mike Brase and Lavon Miller. The prophecies and the class wills were read by the class presidents.

Theme and Decorating committee: Jim Linnemeier, Chr.; Gary Woods, Joan Overmyer, Jeanne Mees, Dave Smead, Donna Witmer, Peggy Vendrely, Mary Lou Amstutz, and Marcia Jackson.

Prophecy: LaVon Miller, Chr.; David Roth, Rosalie Klopenstein, and Joan Lengacher.

Entertainment: Norman Guillaume, Chr.; Steve Mickelson, Florence Smith, and Donna Witmer.

Invitations: Gretchen Hennig, Chr.; Joan Freeman, and Diana Hartman.

Hostesses: Florence Smith, Jeanne Mees, and Marcia Jackson.

Music for the prom held at the American Legion after the banquet was provided by the Comets. Games, films and pizza were to be had at the private party held at the Calvary Temple.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

BACCALAUREATE

Rev. Lloyd Willert, a local minister, spoke to the Senior class in the Sunday afternoon baccalaureate, May 14. Special music was presented by soloist, Arlene Dissinger, and a trio, Wes Christian, Paul Robbins, and Harold Hatcher of Fort Wayne Area YFC.

COMMENCEMENT

Rush! Rush! That's how it goes for twelve years, right down to the final time of saying goodbye.

What could possibly be going through this graduate's mind at this moment?

A candlelight commencement service was held May 16 in the gymnasium. Phil N. Eskew, Superintendent of Huntington Public Schools, delivered the address entitled "Batters Up." Special music was presented by the Senior Girls' octet and Joan Carnahan, with Bill Martin playing the organ at both commencement and baccalaureate.

"You'll Never Walk Alone" was sung with mixed emotions by the Senior Girls' Octet. Who knows where they'll go from here.

HIGHEST HONORS

Valedictorian

"Miss Valedictorian of Leo," Edna Hall, has achieved many worthy honors. Edna's status in her class is a very respectful position. With an "A" average she was elected the "Good Citizen" through the DAR. Because of her demonstration of leadership, Edna was chosen to attend Girls' State in her Junior year. These are just a few reasons why her class status is respectful. One of the more evident reasons is her attitude toward life.

Salutatorian

An "A" average was reached by Pamela Shoudel. This fine work was honored by the title "Salutatorian." Pam didn't limit herself to classroom activity. She entered many scholastic contests. In 1961 she received a certificate for excellent performance in the Indiana University English Test. "Oppression," one of Pam's poems, was accepted for publication by the National High School Poetry Association. She also received the "Americanism Award" in her senior year.

The "snappy" music heard at our home basketball games, which the High School Varsity Band supplied, was enjoyed by all. This hard-working group spent many nights after school putting the finishing touches on their music selections. Though the regular school months had come to an end, these students practiced through the summer vacation to become more acquainted with our new music director, Robert Myers. Other than school functions they have appeared at Leo Days, Harlan Days, Leo Memorial Day Service, District Contest at Hamilton, and the Richard Rodgers Program.

Our band was honored by having fifteen student representatives in the All-County Band. The All-County Band appeared in the Choir Festival at Woodlan, March 17, 1961. These students who represented Leo were Stan Stump, Pam Conley, and Norm Guillaume, second year representatives; Richard Sauder, David Leichty, Barb Gerig, Charlene Phillips, Vernon Miller, Russell Martin, Robert Bojrab, William Jones, Neal Graham, Karen Witmer, Edward Frauschi, and Kenneth Leichty, first year representatives.

A fruit cake sale sponsored by the Band Parents was held to raise money for band uniforms and a new tenor saxophone.

Every Friday after school this group practices. They have played at a few of the basketball games during the season. They won a first at District and State Contests.

Some of the members had to learn to play other instruments than they normally played in regular Band.

After playing scales and sight-reading music, these students were selected for the All-County Band. They appeared with the Choir at the Music Festival at Woodlan, March 17, 1961.

These talented, young lads have built a reputation for themselves in the field of music. They have performed after the Junior-Senior Reception, at school assemblies, the Teen Canteen, Harlan Days, and Leo Days. They are also active in the Varsity and Pop Bands.

"AN EVENING WITH RICHARD RODGERS"

With the rolling of the tympanies and glaring spotlights, a two-hour long spectacular was presented by Leo's Music Department.

Acting as Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Myers created an appropriate atmosphere for each number. The sentimental interlude, "Spring Is Here," provided an equally appropriate setting between each number.

"The King and I," played by the band, was the opening selection followed by three numbers by the Girls' Octet. The Varsity Choir sang a medley of songs taken from South Pacific. The Pop Band played the selections that won them a first at State Contest.

A brief intermission followed. Then the choir entranced the audience with "June Is Busting Out All Over" and "It's A Grand Night For Singing." The Junior Choir sang two selections, also.

To top off the evening, all the participating students assembled on the risers for a grand finale, "Whistle A Happy Tune."

DRILL SQUAD

This "energetic" group of girls has left many observers "flabbergasted" after their performance at half-time for our home basketball games. Mr. Myers has had much experience in this field and has taught many routines, which have won much acclaim for Leo High School.

Since the basketball season has ended, these girls are being trained to twirl for parades this summer and at basketball games next year.

For the seventh time, Leo clinched the County Tourney title by defeating Lafayette Central in the final game. The climax came in the Saturday afternoon game when Leo knocked off New Haven, the defending champs.

Leo is the first school in the ACAC to win all of their conference games. This is also the Lions' second year for winning the ACAC cage title.

In Mr. Doehrman's two years here at Leo, only six games have been lost.

LEO PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

"A Branch of the National Congress"

Objectives of Parent-Teacher Association:

To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community.

To raise the standards of home life.

To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.

To bring into closer relation the home and the school so that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.
